Rome, Nov. 19. 1926.

Thank you very much for your poems which I have read in their entirety. As you are a very young man, perhaps you won't think it patronizing of me if I say that you have all the fundamental components of a poet, vision, feeling, graphic power; but you haven't yet the literary habit and judgement, the command of language, requisite for conveying your sentiment successfully. Nor are you saturated enough with your exotic subjects. — The |like| I have liked best is "I hang up the English down with Mr Polly." "Mr Polly" is good. — With best wishes from Louisiana
